Building Character for the LongView is a combined effort of the Adopt A School Partnership of Longview and area public and private schools to provide character education in our schools and our community. Character education has been heavily promoted at the elementary grade level through Chick-fil-A's Core Essentials curriculum.

In order to promote character education at the high school level this year, the Adopt a School Partnership of Longview is continuing the Art of Character art contest for high school students. As in previous years, with help from the ASPL Committee Membership, Rhonda King is again serving this worthy cause as Chairman of the art contest.

The art contest is open to all area high school students whose schools participate in the Chick-fil-A Core Essentials character education curriculum. Information that is sent to participating schools include contest rules, prizes, entry forms, and a list of the 2011 character traits. In addition to the contest, one entry will be chosen as the Adopt-a-School Christmas card.

Entries must be submitted to the high school coordinators at a designated location on campus by Thursday, November 10, 2011. Members of the Adopt A School Partnership of Longview will pick up the art on Friday, November 11, and entries will be judged on Friday, November 18. The awards ceremony will be Wednesday, November 30, from 5:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. at Longview Public Library, 222 W. Cotton Street.

Many thanks to the following sponsors of the Art of Character Contest: Citizens National Bank, Southside Bank, Spring Hill State Bank, and Texas Bank and Trust.
